

As per the newspaper report about ebills for landline telephones and postpaid cellphones I fully agree about the suggestion of discontinuing with printed bills. This can go a long way in saving green cover of our earth. At the same time, considering literacy level of our country, consumers using electricity, piped gas, credit card etc. should be given an option for selecting between printed or e-bills.

I would further suggest the government to encourage the companies to discontinue with the present system of sending bulky Annual Reports, Mutual Fund Statements etc to all the shareholders.

Hope the government will soon pass a bill in this regard in near future.
